

TRAVEL ADVICE

Statement on Coronavirus COVID-19

DEAR GUEST,

- - - - X

Facing a situation like we are today, we believe we all have individual responsibilities.

And even more as a business: be sure that our first priority is our commitment to everybody's wellbeing. Whether it is our guests, our team or our community.

Today in Spain, the cases of coronavirus have gone over 4000 already. We do appreciate the government transparency in these moments and we are sure so do you. Therefore we would like to inform you that we are following the recommendations of authorities since day 1 and advise you to follow them too as well as using common sense. :)

Even if you are young and healthy, those around you might not be, therefore our attitude could be crucial for others wellbeing.

In this sense, here are our main tips for travelling responsibly:

- follow your government advice on travel restrictions and possible steps you could take upon arrival or return
- if you feel unwell or sick, do not travel and seek medical professional advice.
- get a travel insurance
- rather than cancelling, think of postponing! We offer you the option of rescheduling your trip, no cancellation fees applied ;) and remember, we are open all year.
- wash your hands and cover ups
- share positive travel experiences :) not everything has to be bad right?
- Do not panic, but take it seriously

We appeal to your (as well as our) civic responsibilities for developing a responsible tourism, and take the right decisions depending on your situation.

Let us know your doubts and questions, we will be glad to answer them!

All the best from your Free your Mind Team.
